Script

The Brilliant World of Tom Gates is a graphic novel* by Liz Pichon published by Scholastic in 2011. Tom Gates is a Year 5 primary school student in England, which means he is 9 or 10 years old. Every day, he doodles* in his exercise books and that's what you read. He also bugs* his sister Delia, has fun with his best friend Derek and tries not to get into trouble with his teacher, Mister Fullerman.

Tom introduces his family and friends

This is me, Tom Gates. I sit next to Amy Porter in class, who is very smart. And Marcus Meldrew, who is annoying.

Markus: "What's that?"

Tom: "A doodle"

Markus: "Looks a bit rubbish to me."

Tom: "Thanks Marcus."

He's still looking.

I ignore him and keep drawing.

Still looking...

Here's my drawing of my teacher Mr. Fullerman with different hairstyles. This one's my favourite.

Mr Fullerman: "Tom!"

Tom: "Huh?"

Mr Fullerman has spotted me doodling with his big beady eyes.

Uh-ho, extra homework for me now. Luckily, my best friend Derek is good at cheering me up.

Derek: "Look! I'm a turtle!"

Derek lives next door to me and we like the same things.

Derek: "Look what I've got!"

Caramel wafers for a start. And Dude 3!

Only the best band in the whole world! We're in a band together called "Dog Zombies".

Band practice at my house is never easy.

Dad: "Need another band member?"

Tom and Derek: "No!"

Mum: "Any homework to do?"

Tom and Derek: "No!"

Delia: "You sound like cats wailing in pain."

That's my grumpy sister, Delia.

She's pleased to see me, I can tell.

Delia: "Get lost Tom!"

My grandparents, or The Fossils as I call them, are always jolly and happy.

Grandparents: "Go, go, go, woohoo!"
